

Interactive Agency Interwoven Teamsite Consultant Solution - Singapore

Clients engage Agencies on long term basis with the idea that they can provide integrated digital solutions.

Many times we find that agency clients need specialized Interwoven Teamsite skills to implement content management solution and associated applications in asp.net or java as part of a bigger online strategy. And usually these skills are needed for very short duration or on contract basis.

That is where Sivrin Technologies can help you “cost effectively” implement the solution for your clients. We are much smaller in size compared to your Agency and we can work with you collaboratively in getting the customer requirements, tailoring the solution, completely managing the technical deliverables, so you can focus on account management and other portion of the Interactive requirements.

Which model is ideal for me?

If you are an agency doing a project where Teamsite is a smaller piece compared to the bigger picture or having some specific must do project for strategic reasons and when you do not have anybody with Teamsite skills then model 1 is right for you.

If you have an experienced architect, who knows Teamsite and manage everything except developing the software itself, then model 2 will be right.
